The Greenleaf Online Library
The Sustainable Organization Library

Two outstanding business collections in the important and growing area of sustainability and responsible management. Greenleaf Publishing works closely with the United Nations Global Compact, Principles for Responsible Management Education, European Foundation for Management Development (EFMD) and others. Greenleaf is the world's leading specialist publisher in sustainability, responsible management and related areas, and the collections are in place in business schools and other organizations worldwide.

Goal

Creating teaching and research capability in sustainability and responsible management for business schools, businesses, government libraries and other organizations.

Description

A searchable database of chapters and articles drawn from books and journals published by Greenleaf Publishing and partners worldwide, delivered on the IngentaConnect platform.

Topics covered include:

- Responsible Leadership
- Business Ethics
- Innovation, Entrepreneurism and Social Innovation
- Environmental Management
- Reporting and Standards
- Gender and Diversity
- Responsible Investment and Finance
- Poverty
- Government and Policy

Industry Sectors Include:

- Oil, Gas and Mining
- Fashion, Luxury Goods and Textiles
- Banking, Insurance and Finance
- Engineering
- Architecture, Planning and Construction
- Food, Farming and Agriculture
- Transport
- Marketing and Human Resources

Technical specifications:

- Unrestricted access for your entire institution
- No download limits or simultaneous user limits
- No Digital Rights Management (DRM) restrictions
- Individually searchable and downloadable articles
- Accessible on eReaders, smartphones and tablets, as well as desktops/laptops
- Discovery solution compatibility for tools including Summon, Ex Libris Primo and OCLC
- Free MARC Records
- COUNTER 3 compliant usage statistics
- Simple license – GSE/Greenleaf is a signatory to the Shared e-Resource Understanding (SERU) license
- Hosted on the stable and reliable IngentaConnect platform which serves 25,000 libraries worldwide.

The Greenleaf Collections are suitable for:

- Signatories to Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) and UN Global Compact
- Business schools working towards AACSB, EQUIS or similar accreditation
- Students engaged with sustainability and responsibility in business and management subjects
- Researchers interested in business, management and cross-disciplinary aspects of sustainability and CSR
- Business and management teachers seeking case studies on sustainability and responsible business
- Librarians building their collections in sustainability and related fields

The main advantages

- World's largest dedicated collection of published material on sustainability
- Easy to search and use
- Ideal for teaching and research – contains many international case studies, with guidance notes available

Other information

Trial access is available on request.

Authentication on:

- IP address. Access is granted to any user that requests a service from a specific range of IP addresses assigned to the client organization.

- Shibboleth. Identification and authentication of end-user is held on the server of the customer, using the account and password. This technology is implemented using Shibboleth software (or similar)